

For customers who care about animal welfare, especially to comply with European regulations, we provide welfare crates. These crates offer more space for sows, creating a comfortable environment, especially during the week

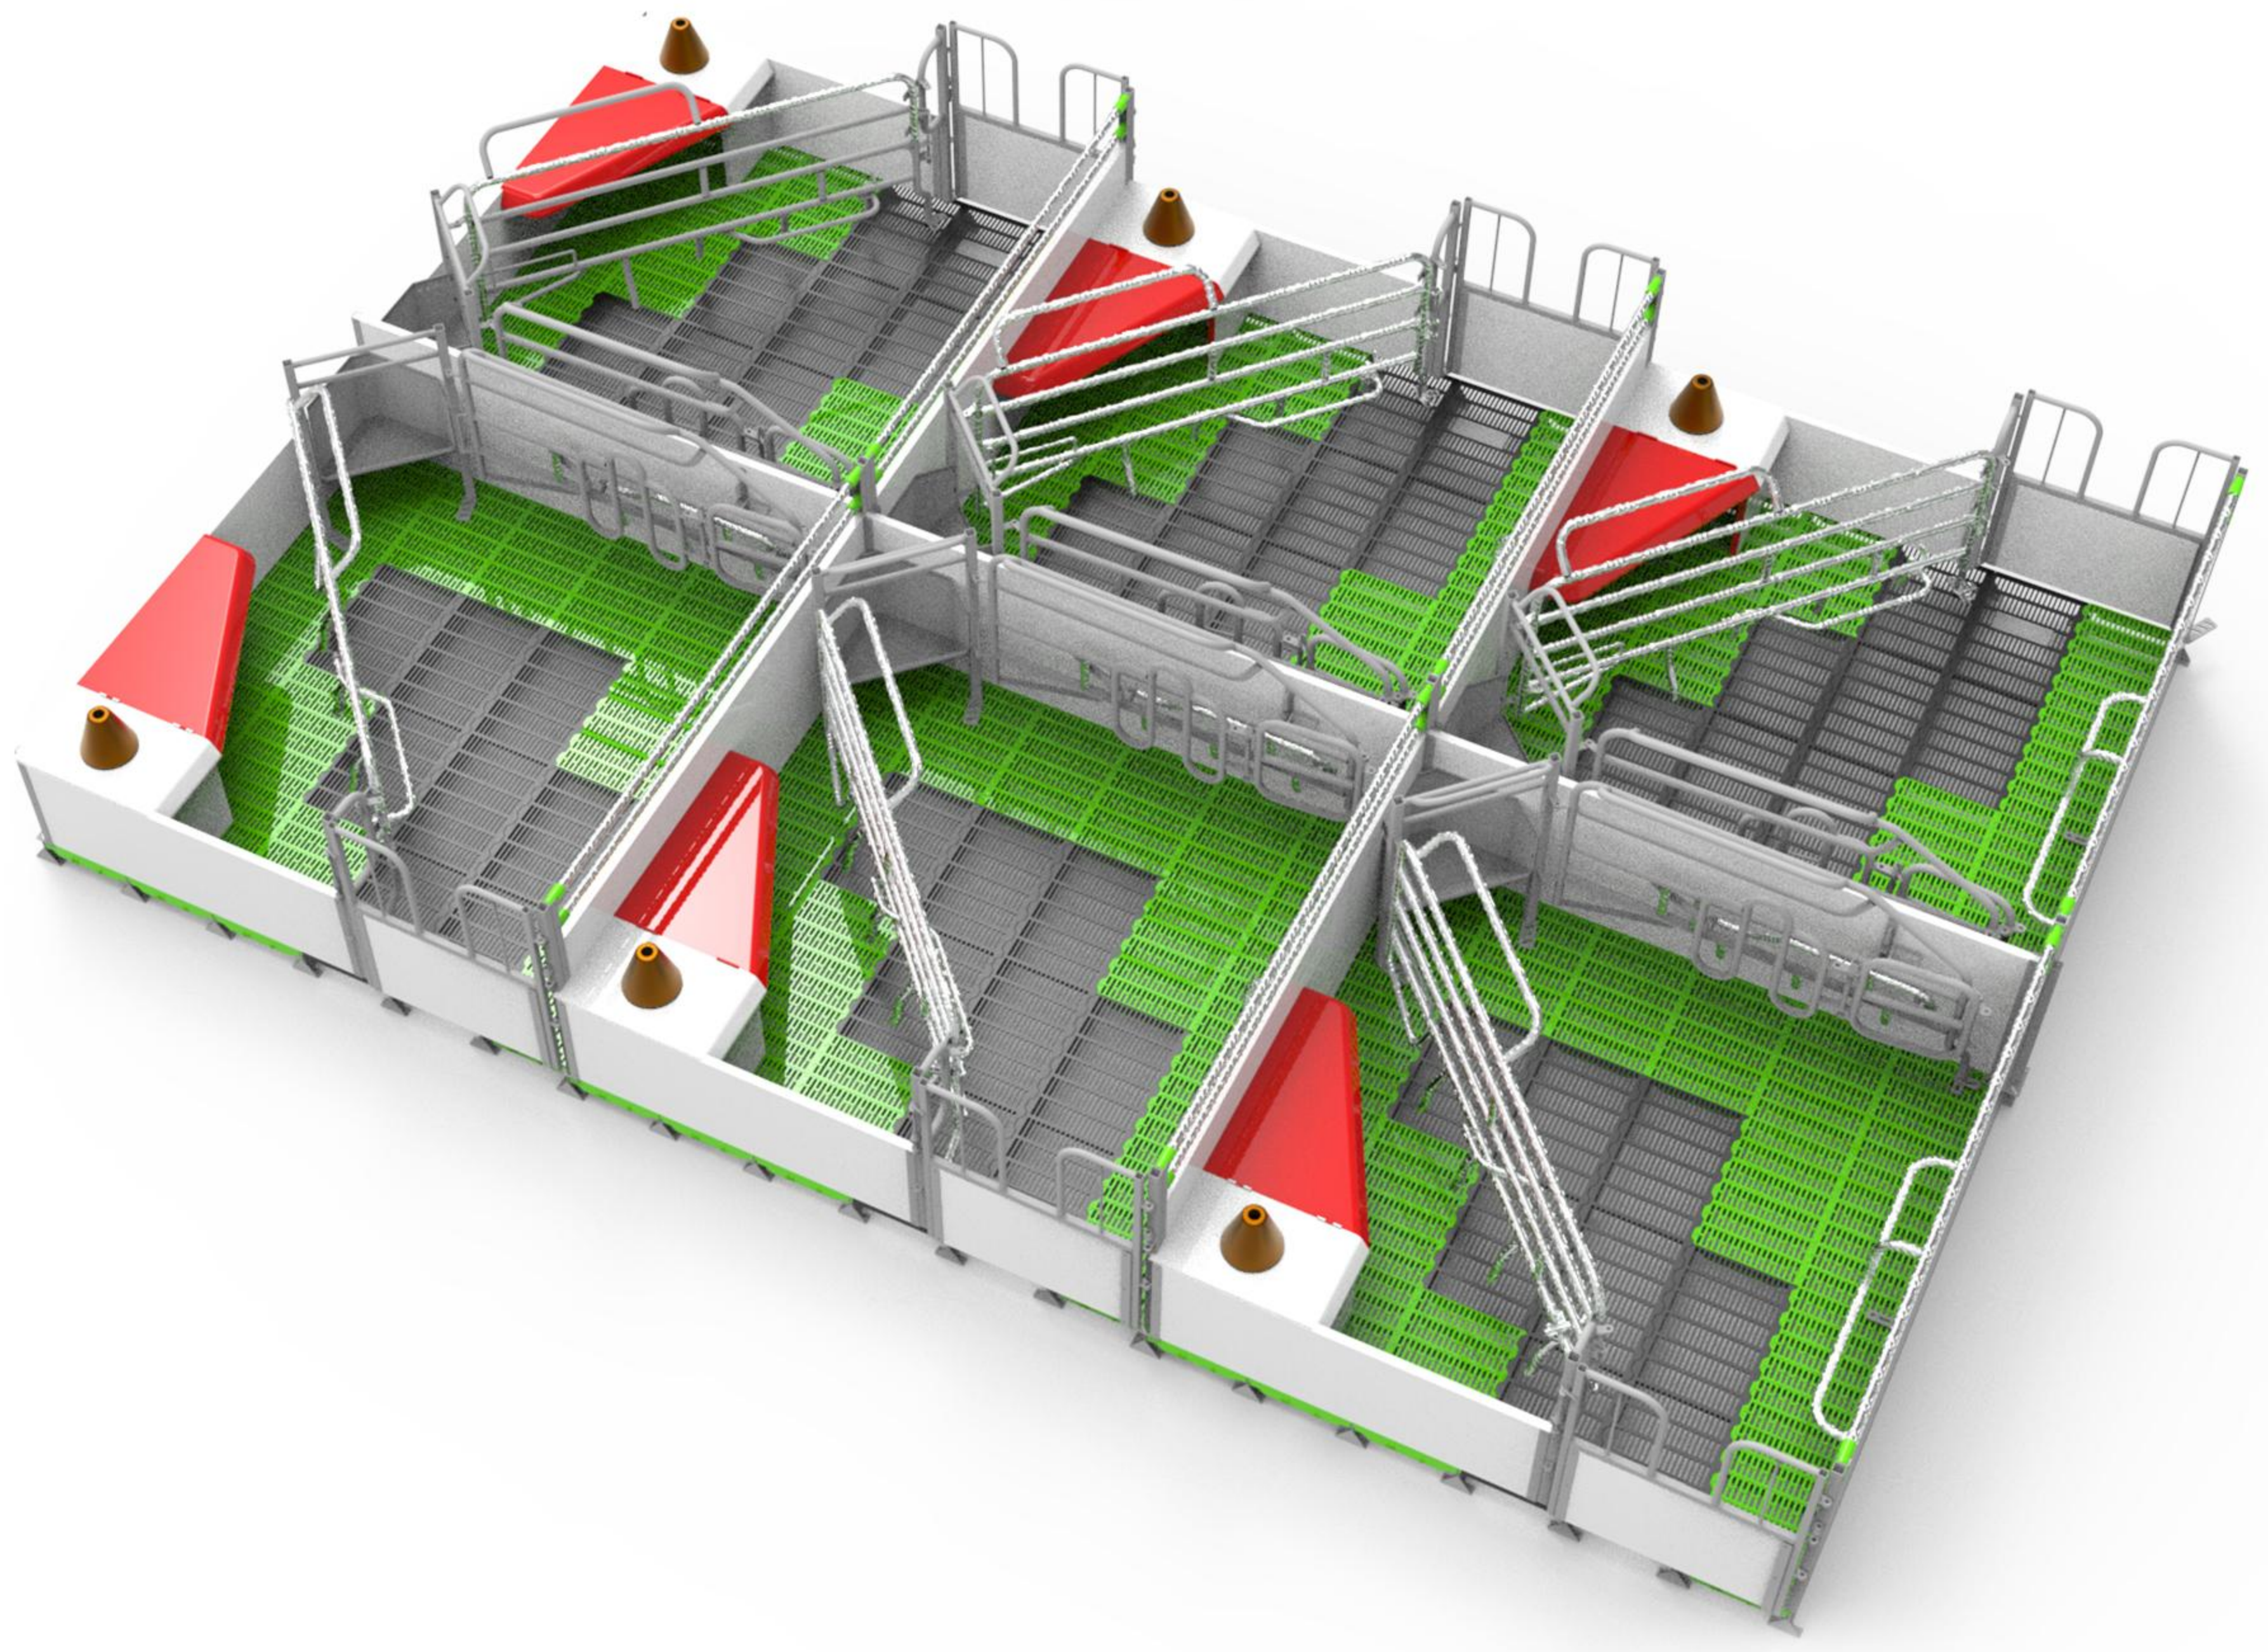

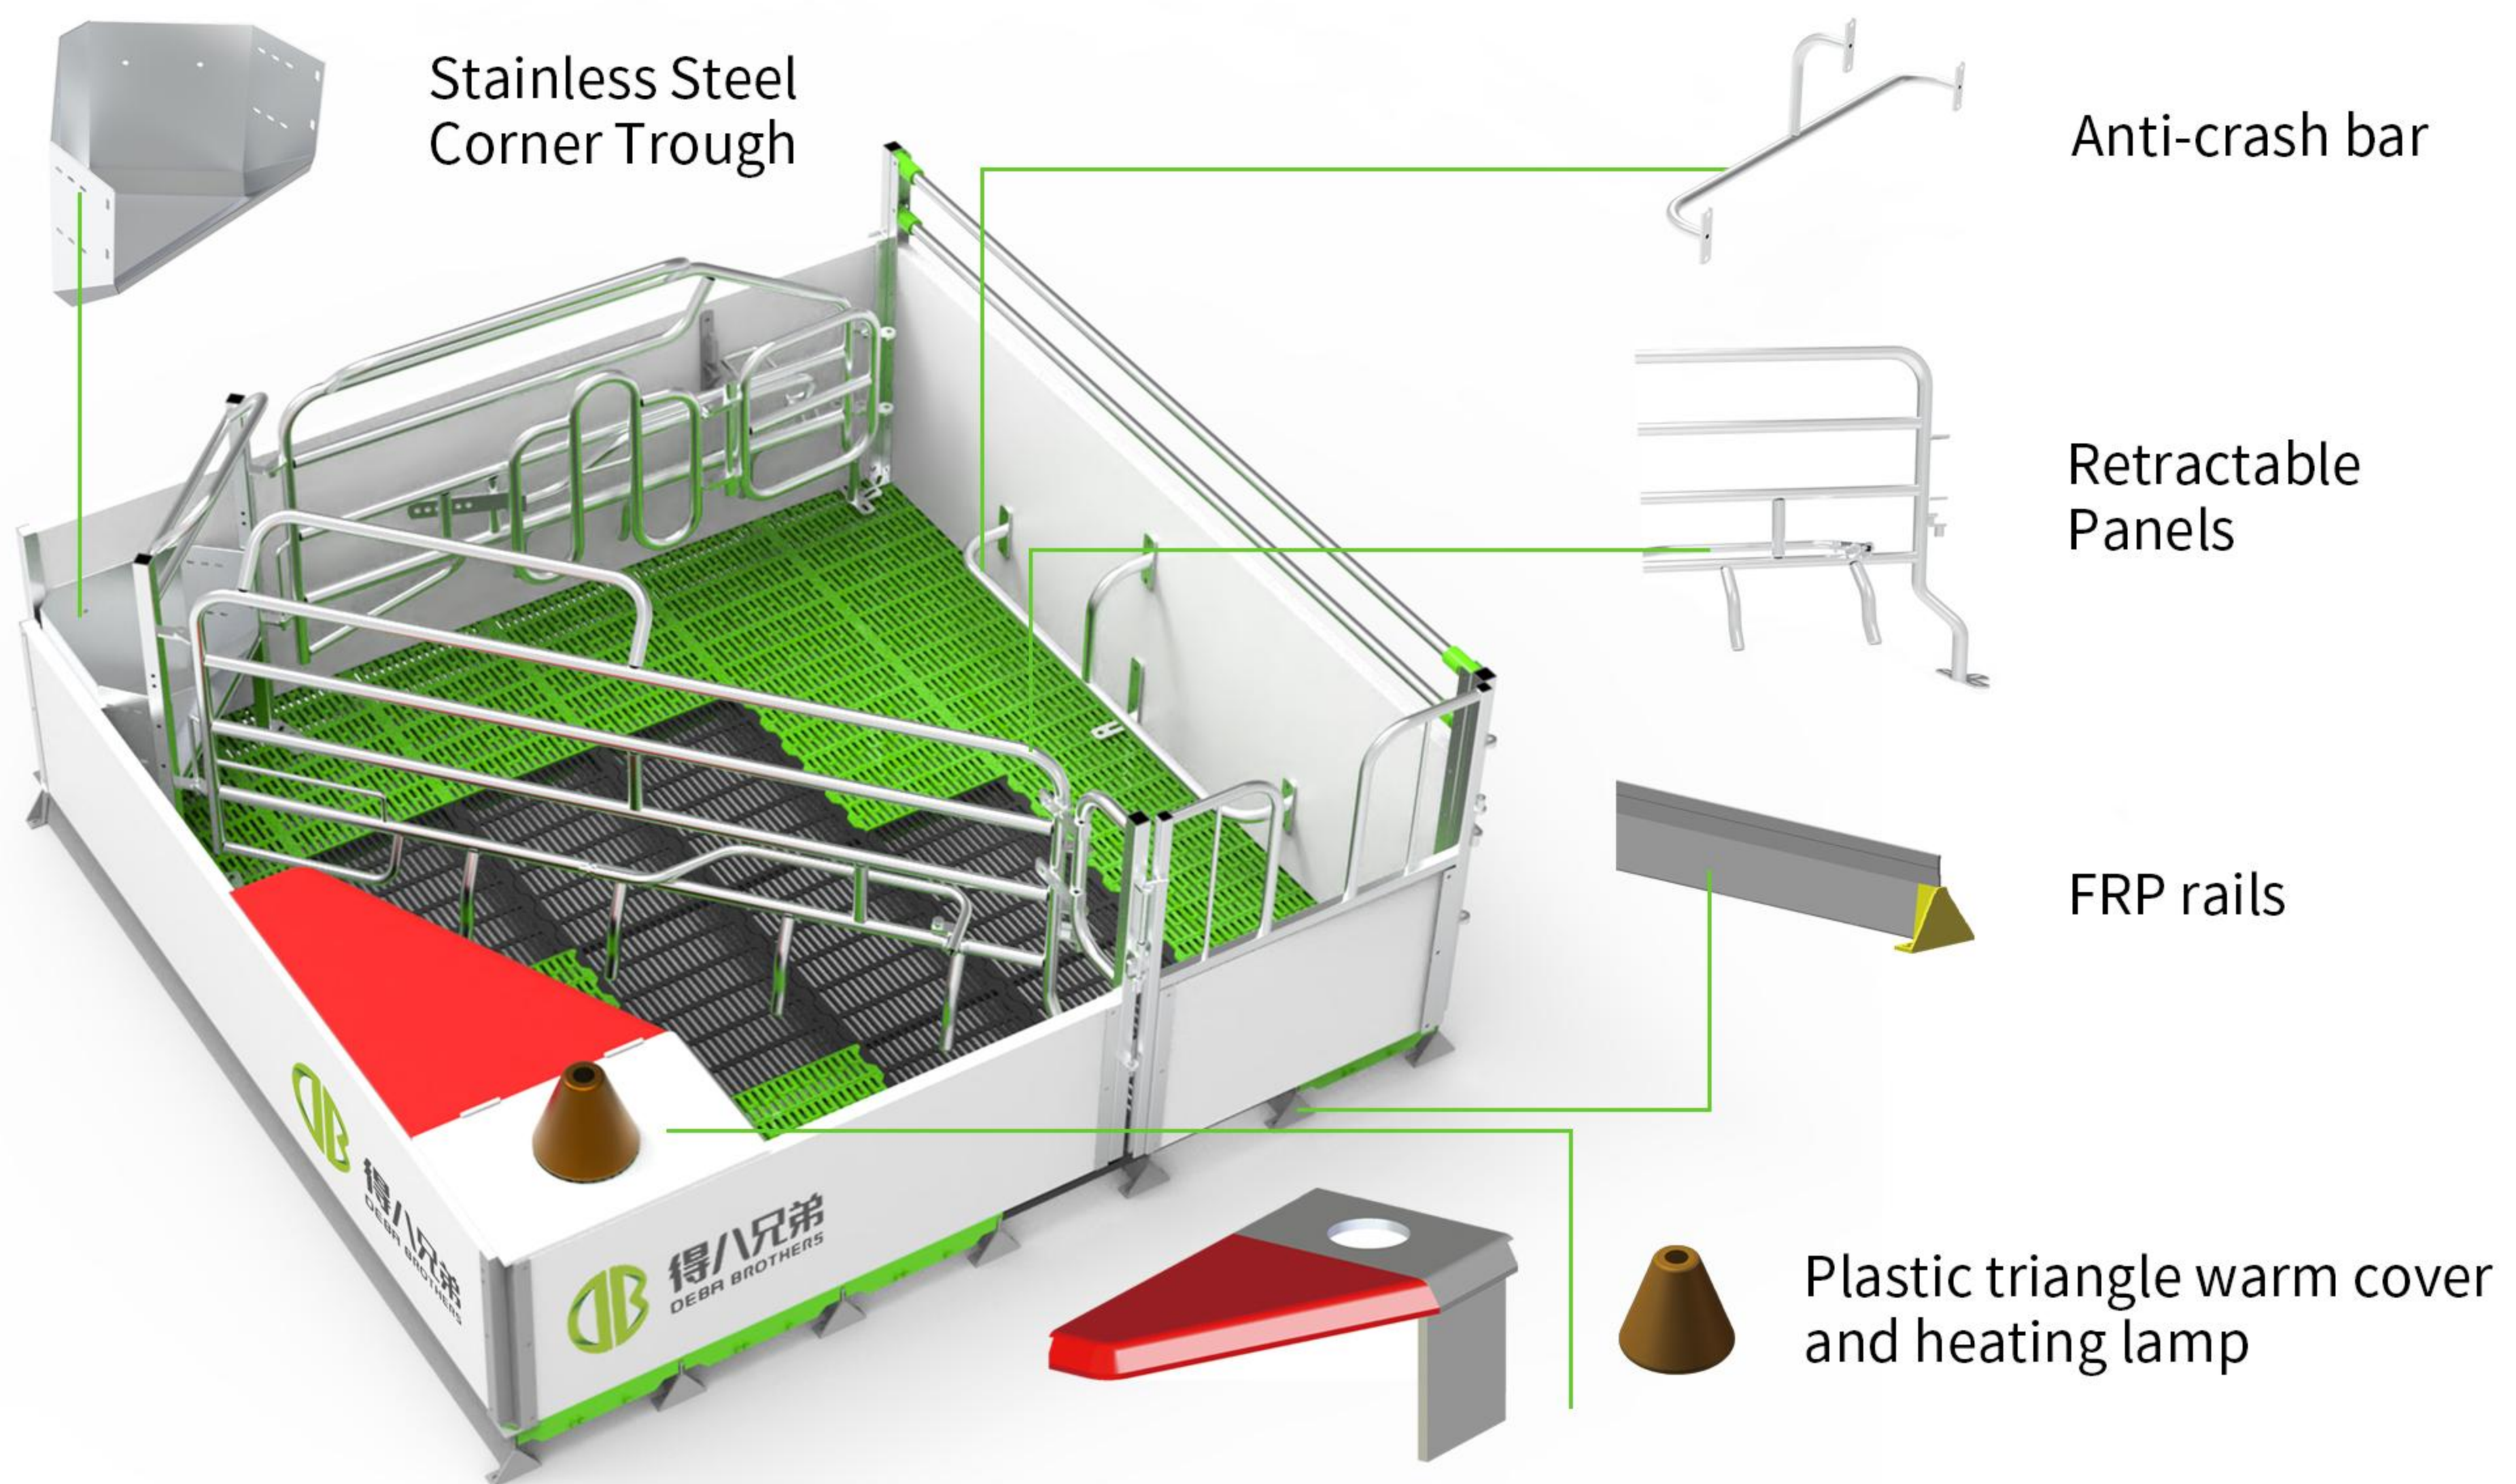

The loose farrowing pen can provide more activity space and more comfortable environment for sows, which is beneficial to the growth of sows.

The stainless steel welded feeder is ingeniously designed, smooth and without hide edge, which is convenient for pigs to eat.

When the sow is not eating, the pen can be opened and fixed to the side wall, so that the sow and piglets can move around freely.
